2. Graduate profile and learning objectives

1. The institution defines the learning objectives of the study programme such as student's abilities at the time of completion of the programme and the main learning outcomes<sup>7</sup>.

The study programme fully reflects the areas and scope of knowledge, skills and competencies that shape the graduate of the third-degree study programme in accordance with the relevant level of the national qualifications' framework set out in the Annex to the Decree - SKKR 8.

The doctoral study programme prepares the personalities capable of further developing the legal order of the Slovak Republic at the level of creation, implementation and application of law for the practice. Studying under the guidance of experience d advisers working in both theory and practice of law, allows graduates to focus on a specific legal problem that currently requires a scientific legal solution, while the graduate can identify the problem, establish possible solutions and verify or falsify a potential solution. The skills and competencies acquired can be further applied to solve other legal problems, while respecting the standards of scientific work recognized in the community of legal scientists. The doctoral study is intended for recent graduates of the master's study, but also for practitioners who have formulated their research question based on practical experience exceeding the horizon of knowledge of the second degree of study.

The educational goals of the programme are:

- Acquisition of key theoretical knowledge as a necessary fundament of and a prerequisite for scientific work;
- Mastering and methodological understanding of processes, structures and procedures in solving specific legal-theoretical issues, which are mostly closely linked to legal practice;
- Analysis and application of theoretical knowledge and research conclusions of national, European and global legal science and their connection to one's own scientific research (innovation, new directions in legal science, emerging issues – digitisation, automation, robotisation, platforms);
- Amalgamation of knowledge and its integration into broader legal-theoretical, legal-philosophical and legal-historical contexts, integration of knowledge and its confrontation with developments in other scientific disciplines, which the law – as a social science discipline – must necessarily reflect.

Main educational outcomes of the programme:

- Gaining broad cross-sectional knowledge of individual branches of law, the ability to interpret them, analyse them and use them in one's own scientific research. Gaining the ability to identify and present one's own solutions to theoretical issues, to critically deal with other theoretical and practical views and,

<sup>6</sup> It means the languages in which all learning outcomes are achieved and all related courses of the study programme as well as the state examinations are carried out. The institution independently provides information on the possibility of partial study parts/courses in other languages in part 4 of the description.

<sup>7</sup> Learning objectives are achieved in the study programme through measurable learning outcomes in individual parts (modules, subjects) of the study programme corresponding to the relevant level of the Qualifications Framework in the European Higher Education Area.

	based on the acquired knowledge, to shape themselves as a part of the scientific and professional community; <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Acquiring the necessary skills used in legal theory and legal practice, which is based on theory and is fundamentally influenced by it, regarding the nature of law and legal science (searching for, collecting and use of data from relevant systems – national law, EU law and international law), acquiring the necessary social skills and competencies that are indispensable given the practical focus of law and legal science;</li><li>- Acquiring the necessary competencies related to creative scientific work, the ability to identify relevant research problems, approach them by scientific methods, evaluate them in cross-sectional legal-historical, legal-theoretical and legal-philosophical contexts, to develop social competencies of teamwork and competencies of advanced critical thinking.</li></ul>
2. The institution indicates the professions for which the graduate is prepared at the time of completion and the potential of the study programme from the point of view of graduate's employability.	The graduate of the study programme will gain the prerequisites for the performance of highly specialized and qualified professions in the field of legal science and research as a researcher in university, academic and other educational or scientific institutions of national as well as European character or as a university teacher. They will also acquire the necessary skills and competencies for the position of postdoctoral researcher at one of the universities. The graduate of doctoral studies can find employment as a pedagogue, researcher or manager at university, academic and other educational or scientific-research institutions. At the same time, depending on the nature of law and legal science, they may find employment in legal professions, in management positions within national and supranational institutions, in state administration and municipality, as well as in non-governmental organizations. Indicated professions according to the Decree of the Statistical Office of the Slovak Republic no. 449/2020 Coll., which issues the statistical classification of occupations: taking into account the above and especially the nature of doctoral studies (since this is not a new study program, graduates in these positions also work in practice), the graduate can find employment e.g. as: university teacher (231) in the field of law, as a specialist in the field of law (261): lawyer (in a company, institution, organization), attorney, trainee attorney, prosecutor, legislator, judge, notary, trainee notary, executor, forensic expert, a senior judicial officer, as a legal professional and similar staff (3411), as a manager of administrative and support activities not elsewhere classified (1219), from these jobs e.g. executive (manager) of the legal department / public procurement / in the field of personal data protection. In addition to university education, other special conditions are required for the performance of certain professions, e.g., successful completion of a selection procedure (e.g., judge, public prosecutor), reaching a certain age (judge, public prosecutor), successful completion of a professional judicial examination / notarial examination / bar / bankruptcy trustee examination, and compliance with other legal requirements (e.g., integrity, required minimum length of legal practice, entry in the list of lawyers of the Slovak Bar Association). A third-level university education can prepare them for the quality performance of these professions.

3. Relevant external parties who have provided the statement or a favourable opinion on the compliance of the acquired qualification with the sector-specific requirements for the profession <sup>8</sup> .	These are not professions regulated by law. Considering that this is a harmonization of the existing doctoral study programme, graduates of this programme are applicable in the indicated professions. This is also confirmed by the opinions of relevant external parties (public administration, advocacy, notary, judiciary, private sector). Their statements are available at sharepoint Vnútorný systém kvality: PF TU accreditation PhD_DS" Annex .5.

3. Employability
1. Evaluation of the study programme graduates employability.	A graduate of a doctoral study programme in law can find employment in similar professions as a graduate of a master's study programme. However, due to the doctoral study they can independently analyze problems of empirical research in their specialization, propose solutions, know the scientific methodology, have a sense of rhetorical competence, etc. They are therefore also qualified to work as a university teacher or researcher. The capacity to find a proper employment of graduates is also monitored through questionnaires, the evaluations of which, together with the opinions of the PF TU management, are available here: http://iuridica.truni.sk/absolventi-dotaznikove-prieskumy
2. If applicable, indicate the successful graduates of the study programme.	This is a new study programme, but there are previous graduates from the period when the programme was accredited in the past. As an example the following can be mentioned: Mgr. Denis Bede, PhD., Mgr. Kristián Čechmánek, PhD., Mgr. Robert Kutiš, PhD., LL.M., JUDr. Ingrid Lanczová, PhD., Mgr. Monika Martišková, PhD.
3. Evaluation of the study programme quality by employers (feedback).	Considering the nature of the study programme and the graduate of the doctoral study programme, the quality of the study programme is monitored and evaluated through the relevant trade union council, in which the employers' representatives are represented. Within the assessment of the quality of the study programme (in relation to its content, staffing), the faculty also addressed persons working in the positions of employers who are capable of relevant evaluation of the study programme (opinions are available at the faculty and at sharepoint Vnútorný systém kvality: PF TU accreditation PhD_DS" Annex .5 ).

4. Structure and contents of the study programme<sup>9</sup>

A doctoral student may apply for a defense of the dissertation after fulfilling the conditions laid down by the study programme and after obtaining at least 160 credits.

The dissertation is judged by at least two opponents. At least one of the opponents is a 'professor', a 'doctor of sciences', or a researcher who has been awarded a scientific level I qualification. In exceptional cases, a university teacher with university education in the third degree or a distinguished professional with practice in the given field of study. The opponent's review contains an objective and critical analysis of the dissertation, is brief and does not repeat the content of the dissertation. The reviewer will comment in particular on: a) the topicality of the chosen topic, b) whether the dissertation has met the objective, c) the chosen methods of research, d) the results of the dissertation stating whether it brings new knowledge, e) the contribution of the dissertation for the further development of science. In this review, the opponent proposes the grading of the dissertation (the mark).

The student submits a dissertation for defence procedure in the state language. After receiving the opinion of the study field commission and with the consent of the dean, the student may submit the dissertation in a language other than the state language; in this case, it includes an abstract in the state language. The student can submit a published monothematic work or a set of published works as their dissertation. The content of this work must elaborate the issue of the dissertation. In such a case, the student will attach a written commentary to the published work, in which they will state the current state of the issue, the goals of the dissertation and the conclusions that arose from researching the topic of the dissertation. The scope of the dissertation is at least six author's sheets.

The defence procedure of the dissertation is public. In justified cases, the defence of the dissertation may be declared non-public by the chairman of the examination board. The defence of the dissertation is a discussion among professionals on the acquired knowledge contained in the dissertation between the doctoral student, opponents, other members of the examination board and other participants in the defence of the dissertation. The defence of the dissertation will be opened by the chairman of the examination board by giving a brief professional curriculum vitae of the doctoral student, an overview of the doctoral student's scientific work and data on their report; and announcing the topic of the dissertation. The doctoral student will briefly present the essential theses and conclusions of the dissertation. Opponents will present the essential content of their opinions; the chairman of the examination board or another member of the examination board appointed by the chairman of the examination board reads the report on behalf of the absent opponent. The doctoral student will adopt a standpoint on the opponents' opinions, objections, comments and questions.

The chairman of the examination board will open a discussion in which everyone present can take part; the discussion verifies the correctness, justification, scientific origin and value of the knowledge contained in the dissertation, as well as the ability of the doctoral student to respond to objections and questions. After the end of the public part of the dissertation defence, a private meeting of the examination board is held, in which the supervisor can also participate. At a closed session, the examination board decides on the evaluation of the

	dissertation defence. The result of the dissertation defence will be announced publicly by the chairman of the examination commission. The doctoral study will be completed by a successful defence of the dissertation. A doctoral student who has not successfully completed the dissertation defence may again request that the dissertation be defended within the corrective deadline set by the dean of the faculty. If the doctoral student has not successfully completed the defence of the dissertation within the resit period, they are entitled, under similar conditions, to the second resit period, within the period specified by the dean of the faculty. 12. Opportunities and procedures for participation in student mobility,	Students have the opportunity to study at foreign institutions through the support of mobility, specifically through studies at one of the institutions under the scope of a bilateral agreement or through internships. The aim of the internship is to help individuals adapt to the demands of the labour market, acquire professional/practical skills, and better understand the economic and social conditions of the host country in conjunction with the acquisition of work experience and language skills. The student chooses the organization for the internship primarily based on his own activity, PF TU in this context acquaints students with the possibilities of cooperating with institutions, however, this does not limit the student's choice. The student has the opportunity to complete part of their studies at one of the partner universities. The main grant schemes being used are KA103 (EU partnerships) and KA107 (non-EU partnerships, currently with Dostoevsky University in Omsk, Russia) under the ERASMUS+ program, which provide students with grant funding for their stay. Information and conditions for participation in mobility are published on the website of the faculty and the university. The selection procedure is organized by the faculty repeatedly during the academic year in order to maximize the possibility of access for students to stays abroad. In addition, there are regular student meetings with the faculty coordinator, where students can find out the answers to the questions they are interested in in this regard. https://www.truni.sk/mobilita-studentov  http://iuridica.truni.sk/erasmus-pre-studentov
13. Rules for adherence to academic ethics and rules for	The Faculty of Law ensures that the principles of academic ethics that shape the future graduate are followed throughout the course of study, including the

drawing consequences, fulfilment of daily study obligations, preparation for seminars and examinations. The ethical performance of the legal profession by future graduates is one of the most difficult tasks and challenges of legal education and training of future lawyers. Therefore, in the field of legal education, courses have been introduced that focus on the dissemination of ethical values as well as the solution of ethical dilemmas that are a part of legal practice.

The faculty emphasizes student education, which shapes students not only professionally, but also reflects the ethical level of law enforcement. As part of their studies, students are required to complete courses in which they become familiar with the standards of academic and professional ethics.

The faculty puts great emphasis on adhering to the rules of academic ethics. The faculty has defined through internal regulations what conduct is considered a disciplinary offense, and this definition also includes fraud in connection with studies or scientific activities. In the case of a disciplinary offense, disciplinary proceedings are initiated against the student, which may result in expulsion from the study as the most severe sanction.

Compliance with the principles of academic ethics is enshrined as an obligation in the following internal regulations:

- Disciplinary Code of the Trnava University in Trnava for students of June 27, 2013;
- Code of Ethics of Trnava University in Trnava,
- Direction of the Dean of the Faculty No. 1/2023 on Ethic of Publishing and Prevention of Plagiarism.

8. Spatial, material, and technical provision of the study programme and support

1. List and characteristics of the study programme classrooms and their technical equipment with the assignment to learning outcomes and courses (laboratories, design and art studios, studios, workshops, interpreting booths, clinics, priest seminaries, science and technology parks, technology incubators, school enterprises, practice centres, training schools, classroom-training facilities, sports halls, swimming pools, sports grounds).

Concerning the post gradual study programme in the field of law, the faculty has secured sufficient spatial, material, technical and information resources of the study programme, which are a guarantee for achieving the defined educational goals and outcomes. These are lecture halls, classrooms, study rooms, courtroom and a computer room.

The faculty provides education of study programmes in its renovated building at Kollárova Street 10 in Trnava. The building belongs to the historical and highly aesthetic jewels of Trnava, registered in the list of cultural monuments of the Slovak Republic. The comprehensive reconstruction of the building was completed in 2008 and its functionalist style and modern equipment correspond to the current conditions for the provision of higher education in the comfortable scientific environment. One wing of the building consisting of one ground floor and two above-ground floors serves for education. On the two above-ground floors there are 12 teaching rooms with the following capacity: 1 x 10, 1 x 20, 4 x 30, 4 x 50 and 2 x 80 persons; larger rooms are used for lectures, smaller ones for exercises and seminars, usually 15-20 students per group. All classrooms are equipped with a data projector, projection screen and laptop. Interactive whiteboards are also available.

A special feature of the faculty is the newly built improvised courtroom, which also serves for the moot courts competitions and for the organization of scientific and expert events. For special occasions related to the study (e.g., student scientific conference, expert and scientific events of departments, faculties, simulated litigation), the faculty also uses the large Collegium Novum meeting room with a capacity of 40 people. The classrooms have a total area of 681.36 square meters.

For educational purposes the individual departments and institutes of the faculty are equipped with a laptop and scanner. In addition, each department and institute has to its disposal computers and laptops assigned for teachers, and every administrative employee has at least one computer with a printer, or laptop, copier, scanner. The faculty therefore provides technical support and necessary equipment for teaching, access to study literature, information databases and other information resources in the study room, as well as remotely, information technologies and external services and their

	corresponding financing. The library and study room of the faculty are located on the ground floor, together with a computer room and a cloakroom for students. On the first floor of the faculty, there are also relax spaces for students and a large open space adapted to the social contact of students. These spaces are equipped with vending machines for hot drinks, cold drinks, snacks. The second wing is intended for individual departments and institutes, the dean's office of the faculty, the study department and other administrative offices of the faculty. Wi-fi internet access is provided throughout the whole building. In addition to the classrooms, there are department rooms available for the needs of teachers, in which preparation for teaching and consultations with students also take place. Accessibility for students with special needs is facilitated in the teaching premises, in the library and study room, as well as in the premises of social facilities. The faculty premises are equipped with wheelchair access, including a lift and a reserved parking space. The faculty premises are fully serviceable in terms of hygiene, antire and work safety and meet aesthetic criteria as well. Student accommodation is provided by the university's rectory at the university dormitory in the centre of Trnava. The university meets the criteria for spatial, material, technical and information conditions of the study programme. The university financially supports the modernization of premises, the improvement of working and study conditions for teachers and students. For these reasons, we expect that this criterion will remain sustainable in the future.
2. Characteristics of the study programme information management (access to study literature according to Course information sheets, access to information databases and other information sources, information technologies, etc.).	Students can use the library and study room directly in the faculty building. At the same time they have access to the University Library of Trnava University at Hornopotočná 23, Trnava. Library https://www.truni.sk/kniznica The faculty library is located on the ground floor of the building, with an area of 312 square meters. Library provides students with space for studying as well as space for occasional social or scientific faculty events. The library collection consists of approximately 22 000 library units (since 2001), the annual increase is an average of 1,300 library units. All new titles are processed electronically. The sum of 50 titles of scientific journals (among them 39 from abroad) is subscribed by the library and foreign titles of prestigious publishers are largely represented here as well. The library works in the form of a study room with free access to the collection. The library offers access to databases of electronic information sources. The library has a wi-fi internet signal, is equipped with its own PC sets, there are two screens with projectors for multimedia use. The library offers access to databases of electronic information sources. In the area of accessibility to the modern sources of scientific information – scientific databases – students have access to the following databases (also distant access): Judikáty-info, C.H. Beck, ASPI, as well as the Oxford Journals Law Collection databases (access to the full text of Oxford University Press's scientific peer-reviewed journals), EBSCO (full-text and abstract BD journal articles), ProQuest (journal articles), Scopus (abstract and citation database), SpringerLink (full texts of articles from periodicals), Web of Science

	(bibliometrics and citation database), Wiley Inter-Science (articles of the peer-reviewed journal), JSTOR (full-texts of scientific articles), Central and Eastern European Online Library (online archive of periodicals of the Central and Eastern Europe social sciences). Online catalogue http://ezp.truni.sk/opac Sources https://www.truni.sk/kniznica/elektronicke-informacne-zdroje-eiz The thematic profile of the library collection of the faculty library is focused on the field of law and social sciences. The collection is continuously updated to provide up-to-date literature for all degrees of study. Due to the new titles and their easy availability, the library is frequently visited and sought after by students of other faculties (not only Faculty of Law). The faculty provides barrier-free access to the library and other academic premises. There is also a bookstore with law literature and scientific and expert literature of other social sciences in the faculty building. The bookstore also offers students the opportunity to buy affordable literature in the bazaar or in the antiquarian section of the bookstore. https://www.sprinton.sk/ In order to implement modern forms of education and executive activities related to management and main processes the university uses the following central information systems: Modular academic information system MAIS, E-learning system – Moodle, DAWINCI library information system, SOFIA financial information system, Identity management system (Novell IDM), Thesis register EJP. Information systems that serve to facilitate the pedagogical and study process (MAIS, EKP, LCMS, Virtual University, SOFIA, DAWINCI) cover the main activities of the university and provide access for most university users. The university has approved the framework document “Information Security Policy”. In accordance with Act. No 18/2018 on the protection of personal data a Security Project for the protection of personal data and related security directives has been prepared.
3. Characteristics and extent of distance education applied in the study programme with the assignment to courses. Access, manuals of e-learning portals. Procedures for the transition from contact teaching to distance learning.	Selected educational activities of the study programme are provided by a combined method, in addition to the presence method, the distance (online) method is also used using the Moodle and MS Teams platforms. The faculty is fully qualified to provide quality education also by distance and combined method. For these purposes, TU has a secure software environment to ensure the education of this format (MOODLE, MS Teams). If a distance or combined method of education is required, the faculty uses the e-learning portal Moodle and the online system MS Office 365, to which all teachers and students have access through a license. Microsoft Office 365 includes the MS TEAMS communication platform. MS Teams is a priority platform for online teaching and sharing of materials. Videoconferencing calls made through MS TEAMS are used in distance learning / combined teaching for the presentation of the curriculum, in the examination phase they can also be used for examination, and in the consulting phase for individual consultations with the student (in relation to the subject, scientific or professional text, creation final work). Brief instructions for working with this platform are available on the university's website.

The Moodle e-learning platform is used to support teaching, assignment, evaluation, or knowledge testing. After logging in to Moodle, students have access to training courses corresponding to the classes, sorted by departments. Students will receive access data to Microsoft Office 365 together with an account to the eduroam network during entry registration. System support is provided by the Information Systems Center (CIS), which is profiled as a specialized university-wide workplace focusing on information technology, computer technology, multimedia technology and software. The mission of the CIS is to ensure and coordinate the development, operation and effective use of information and communication technologies, to participate in the support of educational, pedagogical, management, information and scientific research activities of the university and its components and their rationalization.

Procedures for the transition to distance education

During the summer semester of the academic year 2019/2020, due to the worsened epidemiological situation related to the spread of the SARS-CoV 2 coronavirus, the faculty temporarily switched to distance learning, which was provided by the Moodle e-learning system platforms and Microsoft Office 365 Pro Plus tools, part of which is an online conference system MS Teams. Prior to the transition to distance learning, the Moodle system served as a support system for full-time education, especially for the standard sharing of study materials and information for students. After the transition to exclusively distance education, together with the conference tool MS Teams it became the main system for the implementation of this form of education.

During the transition to distance education, the faculty adopted several measures for the continuation of teaching without restrictions. For this reason, the faculty has conducted several trainings for working with online tools, especially for teachers as well as for students. In addition to the usual e-mail communication and announcements on the website of the faculty's social media, in order to ensure that students are informed about the transition to distance education, regular consultations of the faculty management with students as well as teachers took place. The faculty also responded flexibly to solving technical problems with students' software or hardware.

The Moodle system was able to streamline the system of sharing study materials, elaboration of assignments, as well as submission of completed assignments by students, and provide full feedback in relation to these assignments and assignments. Study materials could be shared through a variety of formats, from basic written form, PowerPoint presentations, or audio recordings of lectures.

	The element of direct interaction with students was provided through MS Teams, which primarily served to conduct online lectures, exercises and consultations.
4. Institution partners in providing educational activities for the study programme and the characteristics of their participation.	The faculty has established partnerships in the existing study programmes, which enable the participation of relevant stakeholders in quality assurance, implementation and development of the study programme and thus ensure the continuous development of the study programme. The faculty and its programme teachers have developed a wide range of partnerships with stakeholders, which are professional organizations, state administration and self-government bodies, self-government organizations, courts, non-governmental organizations. The faculty also actively cooperates with other faculties, scientific and educational institutions in Slovakia and abroad. The Commission for the Internationalization of Science and Education operates at the faculty in order to support the development of partnerships in an international context. Forms of partnerships are also mutual memberships in professional bodies and statutory bodies, projects and outputs for practice – seminars, publications, etc., lectures of experts from practice for students included in teaching, ad hoc lectures of experts in practice for students and teachers, joint activities in the third mission of the university, etc. Providing of clinical education, in which experts also participate is also part of the development of partnerships. Slovak partners http://iuridica.truni.sk/spolupraca-s-inymi-instituciami Other partners http://iuridica.truni.sk/medzinarodne-zmluvy
5. Characteristics of the possibilities for social, sports, cultural and spiritual activities.	The faculty offers pleasant spaces in its building on Kollárova Street for students to relax and meet. The faculty is aware that in addition to providing higher education, wider social contact for students is also important and therefore organises various events for students, including various informal meetings or lectures by various domestic and foreign interesting guests not only from the field of law, but also from the field of history, culture, social sphere. Events http://podujatia.iuridica.truni.sk/ Faculty departments also offer students the opportunity to engage in discussions (not only on professional topics), such as "Teatime with the constitutional law", which was created as a response to distance learning in the online space, in order to fully fill the time with informal discussions on social topics. Another interesting event to motivate students are the interviews with well-known lawyers in the framework of the "Administrative Debates", who talk about their personal and career life as a lawyer. Cultural events for students are provided by the European Association of Law Students Trnava, which organises the Lawyers' Beanie, the Lawyers' Ball and other social gatherings among students, some in cooperation with the faculty. A popular activity in the faculty premises is the pre-Christmas meeting "Christmas Punch", which (among other activities) is organised by ELSA Trnava, or various informal meetings organised by the faculty, e.g. "For coffee with the Dean", which takes place on the Students' Day. The "Literary evenings", the theme of which are interesting literary or audio-visual works also offer cultural activities.

ELSA Trnava

The landscape area near the faculty building is used for students' leisure time in contact with the greenery, which also includes a seating area. The faculty organises an annual faculty picnic in these premises, which takes place at the end of the exam period of the summer semester. It is accompanied by playing board games, music and meetings with alumni of the faculty. Excursions (e.g., the Holocaust Museum in Sered') are also popular with the students.

The Student Support Centre operates at the University with the aim of developing social, spiritual or cultural activities of students. It also offers psychological counselling, support for students with specific needs, legal counselling and career counselling.

Space for sporting activities is created by the Student Support Centre, which provides and organises regular sporting activities for students. Students are offered free swimming, basketball, floorball and futsal. At the same time, a climbing wall or CrossFit and yoga classes are available free of charge for university students. In addition, students can sign up for various dance and other aerobic clubs.

Since 2004, the university has been organising Sports Days, which consist of competitions between students and employees of the various units of the university. Traditionally, there are competitions in basketball, volleyball and futsal for the Rector's Cups and table tennis tournaments for the University's champion/master. The best athletes from these competitions represent the University at the Universiade of the Slovak Republic or occasional competitions of Slovak universities.

The University also has a Student Council of the University of Trnava, which organises various social, cultural and sporting activities for students. It organizes activities through so-called clubs, e.g., debating, chess, climbing, film, literature, etc. It also organises the social media activity "Truni - move!". The activities of the Trnava University Student Council can be found on their website and social networks.

6. Possibilities and conditions for participation of the study programme students in mobilities and internships (indicating contact details), application instructions, rules for recognition of this education.	Mobility PF TU supports the possibility of participating in domestic and foreign mobility schemes for faculty students. The possibility of acquiring knowledge, skills and abilities in the domestic and foreign forums is emphasized, especially in the form of internships and study at foreign partner universities (for studies primarily within the ERASMUS+ mobility scheme). https://www.truni.sk/zakladne-informacie PF TU: ERASMUS +  http://iuridica.truni.sk/studium-v-zahranici TU: ERASMUS +  https://www.truni.sk/zakladne-informacie In the case of internships, these are opportunities provided to students directly by the faculty (courts, ministries and other institutions and organizations according to the current offer and cooperation of PF TU with partners), but students also retain the option of choosing an organization based on their own activities, after approval by the faculty. Internships can be completed in Slovakia and abroad. The ERASMUS+ mobility scheme is primarily used for internships abroad, which offers students (partial) coverage of costs related to the internship and emphasizes the student's own activity in finding a suitable host organization, but PF TU also offers several cooperating host organizations (e. g. foreign departments of Amnesty International, permanent representation of the Trnava municipal region in Brussels, etc.). As part of the educational process, completing an internship (foreign or domestic) is rewarded with the appropriate number of credits. Opportunities for study abroad activities for students of PF TU are implemented primarily through the mobility scheme of the ERASMUS+ program, within the programs KA107 (cooperation with non-EU universities, currently with Dostoevsky University in Omsk – Russia, addressing potential other partners and elaboration of proposals for grant funds) and KA103 (partner universities in the European Union as a so-called classic mobility). Participation in foreign study mobility is rewarded by a credit in accordance with the EU-wide system of recognition of educational results (completed courses) ECTS, which corresponds to the process of recognition of studies abroad. Another supported possibility for a foreign (study / internship) stay, is the grant scheme of the National Scholarship Program (SAIA). The selection procedure takes place several times during the teaching part of the

academic year and is preceded by its proper announcement on the used platforms (Official Board, website, social networks, email) as well as organizing meetings for students, where they are informed about opportunities and conditions of internships / study stay and their related questions are answered.

Studies recognition

The faculty enables the recognition of studies and their parts in order to support domestic and especially foreign students' mobility, within which they acquire new or deepen existing abilities, knowledge, skills, and competencies, gain a broader social and cultural perspective, thus in relation to foreign mobility contribute to support and consolidate a common European identity.

The specific rules for the recognition of a study or its part in the case of mobility are regulated by Art. 20 of the PF TU Study Regulations, based on which a student who has completed part of their studies at another faculty or university in the Slovak Republic or abroad on the basis of a study contract is awarded credits based on a statement of study results which is prepared for the student by the faculty or university at which he obtained them. A course successfully completed at another faculty or at another university in the Slovak Republic or abroad, which is identical in content to the course contained in the student's recommended study plan, is evaluated by the number of credits that the student would receive at the faculty. If a student obtains credits for a subject that is not included in their recommended study plan, it will be recognized as a compulsory elective or elective subject depending on the nature of the subject and will be evaluated by the number of credits the student received for it at another faculty or another university.

For the recognition of credits obtained by students during their mobility studies completed within the ERASMUS+ scheme, the provisions of Article 8, points 5 and 12 of the TU Study Regulations are applicable, as well as the provisions of Article 3 par. 2 letter s), Article 4 par. 8 and 9 TU Rector's Guidelines no. 2/2020 on the Implementation of the ERASMUS+ program at TU, which are supplemented at the faculty level by an amendment to the Dean's Guide to PF TU no. 12/2023 on Foreign Mobility performed on the basis of the ERASMUS+ program and in the Study Regulation of PF TU.

	Study Regulation of TU  https://www.truni.sk/sites/default/files/rektor/studijny_poriadok-tu_schvalene-znenie.pdf Study Regulation of PF TU  http://iuridica.truni.sk/sites/default/files/dokumenty/fakulta/legislativa/studijny-poriadok/studijny-poriadok-pf-tu-2023.pdf In accordance with the regulations above, if the subject is identical at the sending and receiving university, it is fully recognized and included in the MAIS system. If the subjects at the sending and receiving university do not match, or if they do not exist at the sending institution, they are recognized as compulsory elective, or elective courses. For the subjects chosen before leaving for mobility, the faculty provides the possibility of assessing the eligibility of the subjects regarding the subjects taught (enrolled by the student) at the home institution. Courses and credits for their completion are recognized in accordance with the ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System). The recognition process under the Convention on the Recognition of Qualifications concerning Higher Education in the European Region for Continuing Education is also divided according to the level of education attained and whether the Slovak Republic is bound by an international (bilateral or multilateral) agreement. Part of university studies (subjects, credits) are recognized by a university in the Slovak Republic and proof of university education in a field of study is recognized by a university in the Slovak Republic that provides education in the same or a related field of study. In this context, PF TU follows TU's instructions. In cases of recognition of educational certificates issued by a foreign university, PF TU proceeds in accordance with Act no. 422/2015 Coll. on the Recognition of Evidence of Education and on the Recognition of Professional Qualifications and on Amendments to Certain Acts, as amended.

1. Procedures for monitoring and evaluating students' opinions on the study programme quality.	The faculty adapts, monitors, regularly evaluates and modifies the study program in accordance with current legislation and in accordance with the internal regulations of the university and the faculty. As part of preparing an internal quality system of higher education in accordance with the standards of the Slovak Accreditation Agency for Higher Education, new university regulations were adopted, which regulate the area of monitoring, evaluation and adjustment of study programmes. In relation to study programmes, the basic internal regulations are the Rules,

which establish the framework for monitoring and evaluation of study programmes (Article 17). In general, the issue of the quality of higher education at TU is regulated by the basic regulation Internal Quality Assurance System of Higher Education at Trnava University in Trnava, effective from 18 November 2021, which also regulates the evaluation process (Article 14).

Internal system

https://www.truni.sk/sites/default/files/rektor/vnutorny-system-kvality-tu\_schvaleny-vr-tu\_november-2021\_0.pdf

In accordance with the Standards of the Slovak Accreditation Agency for Higher Education, regulations were adopted at the university level regulating the issue of obtaining and evaluating feedback from interested parties (Article 17 of the Rules). In accordance with this internal regulation, obtaining feedback within doctoral study programmes is ensured regarding the specifics of the third degree of university studies focused primarily on the individual progress of the doctoral student at the multi-layered level:

a1) students have the opportunity to express their opinions and views once a year through an anonymous questionnaire on the quality of teaching in the study part of the doctoral study, which evaluates not only the content and scope of the knowledge provided, the method and effectiveness of their transfer from the teacher to the student from an objectified point of view but also the subjective perception of the level of support and motivation within the study, the approach of teachers, as well as the perception of the level of workload required in the fulfilment of study obligations. The questionnaire includes the opportunity for students to formulate their comments, opinions and suggestions,

a2) students have the opportunity to express their opinions and views once a year through an anonymous survey on the quality of the scientific part of the doctoral study, in which they evaluate the content focus, volume and subjective perception of the required scientific work (essays, professional articles, scientific articles, project activities, etc.). The questionnaire includes the opportunity for students to formulate their comments, proposals and suggestions,

b) students have the opportunity to attend an online meeting twice with the vice-dean for doctoral studies and the chairman of the Study Field Commission twice a year, and one of the agenda items of this meeting are student proposals to improve the content, form or organization of doctoral studies. There is also room to communicate the results of feedback evaluation by the study field commission. The Commission also presents the measures taken or planned as a result of the feedback,

c) in accordance with the guidelines of the Dean of Trnava University in Trnava, Faculty of Law no. 3/2023 the students can submit and process suggestions at Trnava University in Trnava, Faculty of Law, to submit a suggestion, comment or proposal concerning the study. Based on Art. 1 par. 3 of the Guidelines, the student can also submit suggestions for improving the study programme and study process, usually suggestions for modifications of study programmes (e.g., proposal to modify the content of the subject in question, proposal of a new subject, comments on the educational process, and suggestions for evaluation of the subject).

d) Due to the nature of the doctoral studies, the students are accompanied by their supervisor throughout their studies and have the opportunity to communicate their suggestions, proposals, comments and recommendations through their supervisor, who, if they relate to the study program, will forward them to the Working Subcommittee for the relevant doctoral study programme. Certain graduates who are specifically selected through the study department, are actively involved in the evaluation of the quality of the educational process and scientific activities in doctoral studies in the form of an anonymous questionnaire survey or in the form of discussion forums at graduate meetings. Representatives of students and graduates participate in the preparation of a questionnaire for obtaining relevant feedback (definition of the range of areas concerned, formulation of questions, etc.).

The faculty regularly monitors, assesses and evaluates the study programme in the form of relevant annual reports (Annual Activity Report – Faculty of Law TU, Annual report on educational activities – Faculty of Law TU) in cooperation with the Academic Senate of the Faculty of Law TU and the Scientific Council of the Faculty of Law TU.

Annual reports

Monitoring and evaluation processes took place on the basis of Art. 8 par. 4 Directive of the Rector of Trnava University in Trnava no. 1/2014, in accordance with which the Annual Evaluation Report on the Functioning of the Internal Quality System of the Faculty of Law of Trnava University in Trnava for the relevant calendar year is submitted (reports published on the intranet).

There is a Study Field Commission at the Faculty, which deals with the development of the doctoral study programme by monitoring, coordinating and evaluating the study and scientific part of the doctoral study. Its position and activities are regulated by the Decree of the Dean of the Faculty of Law TU no. 2/2023, which establishes Commissions for respective fields of study and working sub-commissions for doctoral studies and determines their organization and rules of procedure. Based on Art. 10 of this Decree, subdisciplinary working commissions, which are advisory and initiative bodies of the commission of the field of study with the competence arising from paragraph 2 of the said Article of the Decree, operate at the faculty for each study programme of doctoral studies. In order to continuously improve doctoral studies, the Doctoral Study Commission also operates at the faculty as an advisory and initiative body of the dean of the faculty. The activities of the commission are regulated by the Dean's Guideline of the Faculty of Law TU no. 8/2023, which establishes the competence of the Commission for doctoral studies of the Faculty of Law TU, its organization and the principles of its activities. The basic role of the commission is to contribute to the development, support and quality of education, scientific and research activities in doctoral study programmes provided, organized and habilitated by the faculty (it especially provides for doctoral education in an organizational manner, assists in planning study stays, consultations with experts, provides professional and scientific events beyond

	the fulfilment of the obligations of the study and scientific part of the study, etc.). Decree: Study Field Commission http://iuridica.truni.sk/sites/default/files/dokumenty/fakulta/legislativa/studium/vyhlasaka_odborova-komisia-2023.pdf Guideline http://iuridica.truni.sk/sites/default/files/dokumenty/fakulta/legislativa/usmerenie-8_2023_komisia-phd.pdf Each semester there is a subject survey, in which students can express themselves about the teaching and evaluation of subjects (surveys available at the faculty and intranet). Students can also address suggestions, comments. Suggestions http://iuridica.truni.sk/podnety-pre-dekana Students have their representatives in the Academic Senate of the University and in the Academic Senate of the Faculty, in the Commission for Review of Announcements, in the Commission for Studies, in the Commission for the Support of Students with Special Needs, in the Disciplinary Committee. Students can express their opinion or recommend studying at PF TU publicly on the faculty website: http://iuridica.truni.sk/pravnicka-fakulta-trnavskej-univerzity-v-trnave The management of the faculty as well as the relevant bodies deal with the obtained relevant information and take appropriate measures (list of suggestions maintained within the Internal Quality System, available at the faculty).
2. Results of student feedback and related measures to improve the study programme quality.	Students' feedback (in questionnaires and personal form) is monitored by the faculty management as well as the Study Field Committee for Doctoral Studies and in accordance with Art. 17 of the Rules and as a result of a newly adopted internal regulation of the university it will also be monitored by the Study Field Councils. Due to the nature of the students' comments or suggestions, the results of the feedback by doctoral students are commented on at the stage before their discussion in the Study Field Council and in the Department Commission by the relevant departments providing teaching in doctoral studies or the relevant teachers providing the study subject. If the comments concern the conceptual setting of the relevant study programme, the person responsible for the relevant study programme shall respond to such comments and proposals. The information obtained from the feedback is discussed and evaluated at a meeting of the Department Commission and the Study Field Council, to which representatives of doctoral students are also invited at this point of the agenda. The Departmental Commission and the Study Field Council informs the Sub-departmental Working Commissions for individual doctoral study programmes about the evaluation results or possible proposed measures through meetings. The draft measures of the Department Commission and the Study Field Council, which resulted from the results of the feedback evaluation, will subsequently be implemented in cooperation with the Study Field Council, Subcommittee Working Committees, the person responsible for the relevant doctoral study programme and individual teachers providing teaching in doctoral studies in individual doctoral study programmes.

	Measures to improve the content, form or organization of doctoral studies in its study and scientific parts can be proposed also by students who are invited to do so via various forms of feedback (questionnaires, discussion meetings with the dean, vice-dean and chairman of the Study Field Commission). The measures proposed by the students are discussed and evaluated as part of the evaluation of the feedback results. The person responsible for the relevant doctoral study programme is responsible for the implementation of the measures as well as the elimination of any identified deficiencies.
3. Results of graduate feedback and related measures to improve the study programme quality.	The results of the feedback evaluation, the measures that were taken in connection with the feedback provided by students or graduates of doctoral studies, as well as activities that are planned in connection with the results of the feedback will be in accordance with Art. 17 Rules and subsequently communicated with the involved parties (students, graduates, faculty partners in doctoral studies and employers). The evaluation of the feedback, as well as the reaction of the responsible subjects (especially the person responsible for the relevant doctoral study programme or heads of departments) is published on the website of the faculty or on the intranet of the faculty, where the students and pedagogical part of the academic community of the faculty as well as the public can access them. Doctoral students are informed about the results of the feedback evaluation as well as the measures that have been taken or are planned at the discussion meetings with the vice-dean for doctoral studies and with the chairman of the Study Field Commission, which take place twice a year. Considering the nature of doctoral studies, the conclusions are also communicated at doctoral student attestation meetings. Representatives of other interested parties (faculty partners, employers) are informed about the conclusions of the feedback at the meetings of the Study Field Council, Department Commission and Working Subcommittees, while as members of these bodies they are directly involved in proposing measures or planning further activities. The results of the evaluation and the measures taken are processed into annual reports on educational activities at Faculty of Law TU in the part devoted to doctoral studies, while the annual reports are published on the faculty website and publicly available, and are discussed in the Academic Senate of the Faculty of Law TU, where members of the student part of the academic senate can also express their statements on the topic during the discussion. The evaluation of the graduate questionnaire after graduation and two years after graduation is, together with the opinion of the management of PF TU, available here: http://iuridica.truni.sk/absolventi-dotaznikove-prieskumy Graduates can express their opinion or recommend studying at PF TU publicly on the faculty website: http://iuridica.truni.sk/pravnicka-fakulta-trnavskej-univerzity-v-trnave In order to obtain feedback from graduates and to communicate the measures taken based on their suggestions, comments and recommendations, the annual meeting of PF TU graduates seems to be appropriate and effective. These meetings discuss both professional issues and informal topics in teacher-student interviews.
